

NEW SINGLE RELEASE

"Who" by Memo and The Notebooks • November 24, 2025

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Memo and The Notebooks Present New Single "Who"

Santa Cruz/San Jose, CA - November 24, 2025

Memo and The Notebooks are here with "Who", a sharp, shifting track built on chorus-washed guitars, feel changes, and the kind of melodic grit the band has been leaning into live. The song moves between clean shimmer and distortion, mirroring the tension in its lyrics and emphasizing the nature of how complex a love situation can be.

"Good music is exactly that, good music, and we're here to bring whatever comes out of our creative space"

- MEMO FROM MEMO AND THE NOTEBOOKS

"Who" pulls from the real edges of being in something undefined. Lines giving deep, personal connections to the greatest feelings about being with someone like "Who gives me their love, who knows where I'm from" sit next to moments of doubt and distance. Also contained are lines that carry a heavy feeling and things that are hard to express or even say out loud when feeling lonely or depressed about the love situation one could be in such as, "But I can't think that you still love me. And I know I'm not the only one. Look back girl and you'll still find me..." "Who" is made for the spectrum of what we call love, whether that love is up or down.

The band has been refining its sound across shows from Santa Cruz to San Francisco, leaning into a style that's rhythmic, melodic, and unafraid of switching gears mid-song. "Who" captures that version of Memo and The Notebooks: loud, clean, unpredictable, and honest.

"Who" is available on all streaming platforms.

For press inquiries, interviews, or review copies, please contact:

Memo Renteria / Memo and The Notebooks

memomusicinfo@gmail.com

Website: memoandthenotebooks.band

- Photo by Devin Quan